Chamber accepting Leadership Delaware program applications for class of 2025

Leadership Delaware is now accepting applications for the class of 2025. This prestigious program has become a must-have experience for emerging leaders in Delaware County. Through Leadership Delaware, class participants learn first-hand about the challenges and opportunities facing the community. Participants are exposed to people and places they could not on their own and discover a perspective unavailable in the normal course of their work. Even participants who've lived their entire lives in Delaware County are amazed at what they learn.

The nine-month program, which is held on the second Thursday of each month September through May, focuses on various topics, including: Values & Leadership; County Tour Day; Agriculture Day; Education Day; Social Services, Boardmanship & Volunteerism Day; Government Day; Law Enforcement Day; Health Care Day; and Economic Development Day.

Nearly 1000 Delaware County professionals have graduated from the program since its inception in 1992. These alumni serve on local boards and committees helping to shape the future of the Delaware area.

Click here to view the program brochure and click here to apply on-line. Get more information at DelawareAreaChamber.com or by calling the Chamber at 740-369-6221. All applicants will be notified as to their acceptance by mid-July. Space in the program is limited and it fills up fast. Consider this the year that you or a valuable member of your staff should experience Leadership Delaware.

Main Street continues to be amazing!

Heritage Ohio is proud to announce the 2023 certification of Delaware as a National Main Street Community. Delaware became a member of the Ohio Main Street program in 2000.

During a full-day evaluation visit, the board of Main Street Delaware exhibited evidence of a robust program working toward measurable outcomes in downtown revitalization. To qualify for Accreditation status, communities must meet a set of rigorous standards that include commitments to building grassroots revitalization programs, fostering strong public-private partnerships, nurturing economic opportunity for small businesses and entrepreneurs, and actively preserving historic places, spaces, and cultural assets. This prestigious designation is a testament to the hard work and commitment of the Main Street Delaware Board of Directors, staff, and volunteers.

"I am proud of Main Street Delaware's unwavering commitment to fostering a vibrant, inclusive downtown community," said Courtney Hendershot, executive director of Main Street Delaware. "Our dedication to this cause is reflected in our national accreditation, a testament to the tireless efforts of our team and the enduring support of our community. We are honored to play a pivotal role in shaping a downtown that is not only welcoming but thrives with vitality, diversity, and opportunity for all."

Heritage Ohio helps people to save the places that matter, build community, and live better. As Ohio's official historic preservation and Main Street Organization, Heritage Ohio fosters economic development and sustainability through the preservation of historic buildings, revitalization of downtowns and neighborhood commercial districts, and promotion of cultural tourism. Since 1998, Heritage Ohio has contracted with the National Main Street Center as Ohio's state coordinating agency for the Main Street Program™. Member wins industry award

Selected by Chain Store Age editors and industry consultants, the winning lineup for 2024 includes American Freight, Chicken N Pickle, Lids and Yesway. The 2024 awards, sponsored by architecture and design engineering firm Stantec, were presented at Chain Store Age's 60th annual SPECS Show, March 10-12, in Grapevine, Texas.

"The Breakout Retailer Award recognizes retail, restaurant and non-traditional specialty concepts that are investing in innovation and growth in brick-and-mortar," said CSA editor-in-chief Marianne Wilson. "The honored companies understand the critical role physical retail in today's omnichannel world."

Senior executives from the brands were on hand at SPECS to accept the awards on behalf of their companies and to share insights into their companies during a special panel discussion. Accepting the award for Chamber member American Freight was Peter Corsa, CEO of the home segment of FRG Inc., parent company of American Freight.

American Freight

American Freight was born of humble beginnings that go back to 1994 when its founder would buy truck loads of American-made merchandise and sell the goods straight off the loading dock. It's come a long way since then.

American Freight operates more than 370 warehouse-styled stores nationwide, with an assortment that includes a wide variety of furniture, mattresses and appliances from national brands.

Targeting value-conscious consumers, the chain is widely known for its selection of open-box appliances, which include imperfect products with cosmetic damages such as scratches and dents as well as items that have gone through mechanical repair.

All product is restored to manufacturer specs and sold at a fraction of its original price — with a one year warranty. In another major point of distinction, all in-stock items at American Freight are available for same-day delivery.

American Freight is coming off a busy and, in many ways, transformative year as it put an increased emphasis on the in-store customer experience. In December, it launched a new store format that offers an updated look-and-feel, with new signage, a more spacious layout and enhanced product storytelling for open-box appliances, featuring a color-coded system that helps customers understand the exact condition of each open-box item.

The brand refresh also includes augmented reality technology that lets shoppers visualize how furniture will look in their own home before purchasing.

American Freight is piloting the new format in select stores, with plans to start rolling it out nationwide beginning in the third quarter.

With its emphasis on value, American Freight sees a long runway for growth, with the potential to grow up to 1,000 locations eventually.

Historic Sackett Farm welcomes Scioto Gardens: A new chapter in sustainability

In a historic move, Sackett Farm, a cherished piece of Delaware's agricultural heritage dating back to 1839, has announced the sale of a portion of its land on Curve Road in Berlin Township. Maribeth Eiken, longtime steward of Sackett Farm (together with her children), made the decision to entrust 9 1/2 acres of this historic property to Scioto Gardens, a leading native plant nursery, marking a significant milestone in the family's legacy.

Amy Eiken, Maribeth's daughter and a fifth-generation graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and retired educator, spearheaded the creation of Sackett Farm Flowers in 2020. In 2021, Maribeth enrolled 10 acres of land into the Conservation Reserve Program for native wildflowers and pollinators, underscoring their commitment to environmental conservation.

For Maribeth and her family, preserving the integrity of Sackett Farm was paramount. Despite numerous offers for development, they remained steadfast in their resolve to keep the land protected. The partnership with Scioto Gardens emerged as a natural fit, driven by a shared ethos of reverence for the land and a commitment to sustainability.

Scioto Gardens, a native plant nursery operating in Delaware County since 1999, faced closure when its original owners retired in 2019. However, a dedicated group of plant enthusiasts banded together to save it. Today, Scioto Gardens cultivates and sells native plants that attract customers from across Ohio and neighboring states.

A woman-owned business, Scioto Gardens is led by Amy Dutt, Christine Dilley, Denise Gualtiere, Penny McDowell, Annette Rosati Wright, and Mark Dilley, shares the Sackett family's passion for environmental education and stewardship. Since its establishment in 1999, Scioto Gardens has been a pioneer in the promotion of native plants and habitat conservation.

The move to Sackett Farm represents a new chapter for Scioto Gardens. The larger site will allow Scioto Gardens to grow more plants in response to the dramatically increasing demand for native plants. Customers will experience native plants in a natural setting. The new location will feature demonstrations of wetland and prairie restoration, reforestation, as well as garden beds highlighting native plant species.

On April 2, Scioto Gardens opened for the season at its current Delaware location at 3351 Route 37 West. A grand opening at the new 2870 Curve Road location is scheduled for July 27. To stay updated on events, plant availability, and site progress, follow Scioto Gardens on Facebook, Instagram, and LinkedIn or check their website at www.sciotogardens.com.

During this exciting transition, Sackett Farm Flowers will host a series of engaging community events, including free monthly potlucks from May through September. For further details and updates, connect with Sackett Farm Flowers on Instagram or Facebook.

Beloved community leader announces retirement

Warren W. Hyer, the Executive Director of the Central Ohio Symphony, is retiring effective July 31 after 33 years in that role.

“I decided in the fall that I would retire at the end of the season in July,” Hyer said. “I have taken great pride and joy in my work with the Symphony and look forward to it having a shining future.”

Hyer’s accomplishments over the decades are significant. From a small town-gown ensemble when it first began, Hyer has overseen its transformation into separate non-profit and recognized regional orchestra of professional musicians.

During Hyer’s tenure, his goal was to take the Symphony to newer and higher levels of community engagement. Some of those initiatives include Carnegie Hall’s Link Up educational program, the Ford Made in America project, Bene-in the Barn concerts, and, most notably, the groundbreaking Reconnecting therapeutic drumming program with the Delaware County Courts. Hyer contributed a chapter about the Symphony’s drumming program to the book Not Far From Me as one response to the opioid crisis in Ohio.

Over the years, Hyer made numerous presentations before the League of American Orchestras, the Percussive Arts Society International Conference, and the Ohio Supreme Court. He wrote and received numerous grants to help underwrite Symphony initiatives, including several each from the National Endowment of the Arts, both the League of American Orchestra’s Getty Fund and Futures Fund, PNC Arts Alive, and the Ohio Arts Council.

Hyer has especially enjoyed the opportunity to be creative with programming. During his tenure, the Symphony has performed numerous world and Ohio premieres. It has hosted Pulitzer Prize-winning composers, internationally renowned guest artists, and produced the Play It Again program supporting emerging composers, the only one of its kind in this country.

“I take pride in feeling that I have played a key part in bringing the Symphony outside of the performance hall to all parts of our community, not only to those with a ticket to a formal concert.”

In a statement from the Symphony Board, it said Hyer’s “tenure as the Executive Director has been nothing short of excellent, marked by unwavering dedication, visionary leadership, and an unbridled passion for the arts. His impact on the Delaware community has been profound, fostering an environment of creativity, inclusivity, and excellence. The Symphony has flourished under his guidance...[and his] commitment to engaging the community has...elevated the Symphony’s artistic achievements.”

“The task of finding a new executive director with the enthusiasm, dedication and community sprit of Warren Hyer is daunting at best,” said Symphony Board member Pam Beery.

Hyer said the opening is an opportunity for someone “to guide and grow this wonderful orchestra, to bring great music experiences, and to serve central Ohio into the next era.”

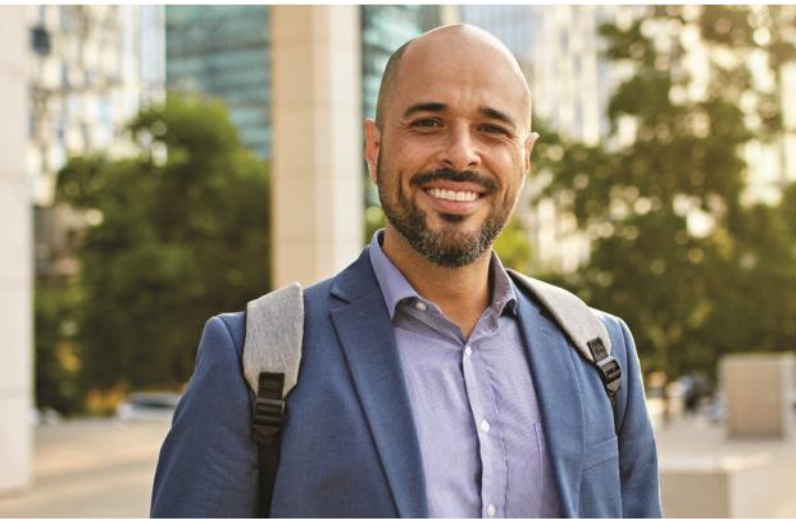

Hyer will continue to be the orchestra’s timpanist, proudly sharing the stage with the other members of the ensemble. He is the last remaining original musician in the orchestra.

“I greatly appreciate this community’s support for the many projects and concerts through the years. I look forward to the Symphony’s future.”

It is impossible to overstate Warren’s contribution to our community. It’s also impossible to articulate how grateful we are to his many years of passion and commitment and joy his hard work brought to us. We wish him and April all the best in this next chapter of their lives.

Chamber graduates first Career Club class

The Chamber of Commerce Career Club (C4) is a program for high school seniors who aren't going to college but don't know what they don't know. The Chamber's workforce Development & Education committee created the initiative pre-Covid and it was only last fall that the first class was able to participate.

C4 is a nine-month program that combines classroom discussion about work, interviewing and life with field trip hands-on introduction to careers not imagined by our students. The students visited COVE (Central Ohio Veterinary Clinic), Ohio Living Sarah Moore, The Alpha Group; health care with Marion Technical College's mobile van, Emergency Plumbing Heating & Air, PPG Industries and met with folks from Del-Co Water, Byers Auto Group and many others. In April they had real interviews for real open positions, learned a bit about financial literacy from Richwood Bank and then enjoyed lunch and the official "graduation". Joining the students as they received their certificate of completion were committee members, superintendents from Delaware City Schools and Buckeye Valley Local Schools, Chamber board members and even family members of some of the students.

Completing the program earned the students a graduation seal and the Chamber is proud to have been able to share this experience with the fourteen students who participated. The program will be open to both juniors and seniors in its next academic year and students are already submitting their applications. This will be followed by an in-person interview and if accepted, the students will begin in September.

Creating that much-needed workforce pipeline is more challenging than ever and, like so many other organizations and private sector employers, the Chamber is doing its part to introduce our young folks to paths they might not be aware of.

The Chamber is grateful to Delaware City and Buckeye Valley schools for all they did to facilitate the program, transporting the students, taking care of all the paperwork that field trips require. The Delaware Area Career Center was a huge assist with getting our young folks in front of their business partners. Members of the committee who pulled this off were Aric Arnett, Ohio Living Sarah Moore; Amy Adams, Marion Tech; Jessica Ladd, Emergency Plumbing, Liz Owens, The Alpha Group and Dee Ketterling. Our school committee partners were Jen Pollard, DSC, Jessica Ladd, BV and Lisa-Marie Reinhart, DACC. What a collaboration! Thank you to everyone who helped us pull this off and a special recognition goes out to the students whose interest and commitment made it all worthwhile. Now that our inaugural year is behind us, we look forward to expanding the program, building our local workforce one-by-one.

We had a good time but we didn't inhale

The self-proclaimed Queen of Ash, Casa Aficionado owner Patricia Khalaf hosted the April Business After Hours and we had a smokin' good time. Guests enjoyed a cigar, a mimosa and a tour or the two poker rooms.

Located at 310 S. Sandusky St. in Delaware, Casa Aficionado is Delaware's destination for all premium tobacco products, featuring Delaware's largest walk-in humidor, they carry a full line of premium cigars to suit any taste and budget. They also have an exclusive selection of unique and specially priced hand-rolled blends available nowhere else!

Casa Aficionado members have 24/7 access to the store, their own locker to store any adult beverages they might want to share (that's also where they'll find a free surprise cigar every month) and 20% off all cigars and accessories.

Casa A is all about the fraternity of cigar lovers and as much social club as it is retail store. And the undisputed Queen of Ash is the perfect hostess. Thank you, Patricia. Click here for more photos.

Leadership Delaware Class of 2024 Health Care Day

Facilitators: Kim Saunders '19, Jodie Wegmiller '23
Newsletter editors: Pam Walker, Sherry Ward, Kristy Warner
Photographers: Eric Weitz, Chelsea, Chad Williams, Ben Yoakum

Health Care Day began in the downstairs conference room of Grady Memorial Hospital with a delicious breakfast and quick update on community projects. An overview of the day was presented by Kim Saunders. Rick Kelly, Director of Nursing at Grady Memorial and Lewis Center Emergency Department provided a high level overview of Health care in Delaware County including their partners.

Karri Benishek, OSU Wexner Medical Center, Krishna Tummalapalli, Director, Data and Analytics and Scott Starkey, Portfolio and Enterprise Architecture and Information Services presented members with information on the use of technology in healthcare. COVID 19 really made us begin to use this. A lot of discussion was held Deanna Brant, Delaware-Morrow Mental Health Recovery & Services Board presented. She has over 30-year experience and started with the Board in June 2017. Deanna explained the Board is made up of 14 volunteers, 12 from Delaware County and 2 from Morrow County. The Board contracts with 11 non-profit providers and holds over thirty community partnerships throughout both counties. Their providers are board funded and must be certified in both Counties. These service providers include Big Brothers Big Sisters, Cornerstone of Hope, Del-Mor Dwellings, Maryhaven, NAMI, PASS, Safe Harbor, Southeast Health Care, Syntero, Turning Point and Helpline, which also covers the 988 service for both counties. Deanna explained what each agency provides as well as the populations they serve. Deanna explained that 74% of people know someone who is diagnosed with a mental illness and that 18% of Delaware County residents self-report depression. In Morrow County, 23% of residents self-report depression. She expressed that behavioral health is paid for by taxpayers and described the levels of crisis, the dynamic phases, adding that millions of dollars are spent on crisis and that by providing preventative services, this cost could be reduced.

Dr Loren E Wold, PhD, FAHA, FAPS is the Associate Dean for Research Operations and Compliance in the College of Medicine, and a Professor in the Department of Surgery-Division of Cardiac Surgery at the Ohio State University. He is also Editor-in-Chief of the FASEB Journal. Dr. Wold's Laboratory is currently researching external triggers of cardiac disease with the emphasis on electronic cigarette exposure. E-cigarettes were originally intended as an aid for smoking cessation. Its constituents include an aerosol mixture of propylene glycol, vegetable glycerin, nicotine, and flavorings. Most worrisome, E-cigarettes or vaping has grown exponentially in popularity with adolescents. A recent survey from the CDC found more than half of high school seniors have tried e-cigarettes and nearly a third have reported current usage. In the Columbus area, surveys show 9% in 8th grade, 20% in 10th grade and 25% in 12th grade.

The E-cigarette contains concentrations of particulate matter thousands of times higher than other environmental factors. Although studies have revealed clear pulmonary consequences for E-cigarette use, its impact on adolescent cardiac health had not been examined. Research using mice revealed noted changes in cardiac function within 2 weeks of use and with time a significant decrease in cardiac function including a significant decrease, at the cellular level, in the ability of the heart to pump blood. Studies also indicate vaping can negatively affect the brain with an increased risk of the development of Alzheimer's, depression and increased suicidal tendencies. Further research reveals that exposure to high levels of particulate matter on parents prior to pregnancy can negatively impact the health of children and grandchildren. Dr Wold states that we do not know the long-term effects of vaping because it has only been around since the early 2000's. Continued research and public dissemination of information is key to change.

After a terrific lunch, Jake Depp, Manager of Physical Therapy at OSU Wexner Medical Center, Outpatient Care Lewis Center had us up and moving. According to current Physical Activity Guidelines for Americans, the CDC recommends 150 minutes of moderate intensity activity per week plus 2 days of muscle strength training. Our bodies need variability and movement. He guided the group through a series of easy exercises you could perform if you found yourself sitting for extended periods of time, for example while working.

Dr. MacDowell presented on preventative care including those that can and should be recommended by our primary care physicians. Preventive care can help identify health problems like high blood pressure, diabetes, or certain cancers earlier, when they are most treatable. Preventive care can help you stay healthier and in turn lower your health care costs. The US spends the most per capita on healthcare at $10, 586.

Examples of types/topics: Breast cancer screening, colon cancer screening, diabetic retinopathy, statin treatments, blood pressure control, annual checkup, immunizations for children and adults, annual flu shots

Challenges: availability and compensation

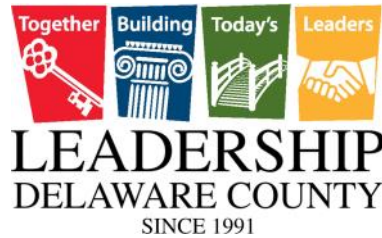

Traditionally speaking, doctors were only compensated when a patient visited their office.

Insurance providers are moving toward covered preventive care services.

Members of Leadership were provided a tour of Grady Memorial including their Mobile Stroke unit which is stationed near the airport. This unit offers services to Delaware County and there is only a single unit in placed at this time. The unit is staffed 24 hours a day Monday through Friday. Members were also provided tours of the Emergency Department, the OB unit and the OR in which many items used during surgeries were shown. It was also stated that all operating rooms are cleaned thoroughly and daily from floors to ceilings including windows. A quick sneak peak of the intensive care unit was provided.

Health Day Care for Leadership Class of 2024 was a success, and everyone found it to be very educational and informative. The day was enjoyed by all. Click here for more photos.

Our Values—The Delaware Area Chamber of Commerce will:

- treat all of our relationships with honesty, respect and fairness;
- be actively involved in our community and be leaders in identifying and addressing issues of community and regional concern;
- foster partnerships to improve the economic well-being and quality of life in the community;
- hold the business needs of our membership to be our highest priority;
- remain committed to fostering a rich sense of community and an unrivaled quality of life;
- stay connected to our membership - communicating information and opportunities to our members, public policy leaders, and the residents of the greater Delaware community;
- be an inclusive organization, sustaining a diverse membership by welcoming all interested parties to become involved and encouraging a variety of thoughts and view points; and
- be trustworthy and responsible stewards of the Chamber's funds, seeking to direct resources with wisdom and integrity.

Who we are

The Chamber is a voluntary organization of businesses investing their time and money to improve the economic, civic and cultural well-being of the community. Through this investment, the individual volunteer, company or corporate sponsor increase their business, expand their profile and value and in turn accomplish their personal and professional goals. Everyone shares in the benefit created by the growth and prosperity generated.

The dues structure is designed to permit even the smallest business to be a member. The work of the Chamber is financed by the investment of individuals and businesses that support it. The Chamber is not part of the city or the government. It is a unique organization and it belongs to the members.

What we do

The Chamber provides its members with a platform to accomplish their business goals. Belonging to the Chamber increases a member's opportunity to network, develop professional and personally, build a referral base and increase their visibility. A recent study from the Shapiro Group shows that consumers are 49% more likely to think favorably of a Chamber-member business and 80% more likely to purchase goods or services from the company in the future. A Chamber membership comes with a 73% increase in customer awareness and a 68% increase in local reputation.

Your organization helps create jobs through stimulation of industrial and commercial growth. The Chamber is a voice for small business and keeps abreast of issues that affect the business climate and alerts membership to resources that may assist in their resolution. It also assists in bringing new business to the community by acting as a resource to the business principals and leaders. The Chamber serves as a resource for membership and provides referrals from a trusted network of business men and women.

The program of work is facilitated by the Chamber's member volunteers and committees under the direction of the board of directors. The goal is always to create more prosperity and opportunity for all members. Every member has a voice in determining the Chamber's work, policies and projects- and every member is needed to work to get the job done!

And programming? Your Chamber knows how vital networking and educational programming are to its members. Monthly Before Hours and After Hours, Third Thursday luncheons, ribbon cuttings and other celebrations; annual golf outing and clay classic, the unique annual dinner and awards event; educational series, Safety Council and Leadership Delaware are the organization's sweet spot.

And what of your investment in the organization? In 2018, the Delaware Area Chamber received its second consecutive 5-year, 4-Star accreditation. Only 3% of chambers nationwide (and only four in Ohio!) seek and receive this prestigious recognition. What this means is that from finances to communication; HR to programming your Chamber is run like a business. A solid, well-run business and is committed to the accreditation process every day.

No other organization can do all that the Chamber does. We've been doing it since 1907. Times change but the relevancy of your Chamber endures.

The most comprehensive research study to date on the relationship between Chamber membership and consumer confidence shows a marked effect for both large and small business. The caveat, however is that the positive outcomes only occur when the consumer knows that a business is a Chamber member. As a member of the Delaware Area Chamber of Commerce in good standing, you are encouraged to use the Chamber’s logo on your email signature, website, stationery and marketing materials. Call the Chamber for an electronic version of our logo. Take advantage of the cache your membership brings to your business.

Are you making the most of the freebies that your Chamber membership offers?

The Chamber uses an integrated database system called ChamberMaster. From the staff's point of view, ChamberMaster's integration with our secure accounting system and website, and its use as a database system are only the tip of the iceberg; CM's features are robust and responsive to chambers of commerce who subscribe. But ChamberMaster is also a multi-faceted tool for our members that increases the value of membership to those who use it.

To use any of the features offered, you will need a username and password. Click here for instructions.

Your online calendar displays events from other members, Chamber events, and of course, any events that you have posted. You can register online for Chamber events only; to register for another member's event, please contact that member directly. If the event you'd like to register for has a fee associated with it (for example, Third Thursday luncheon is $20 per person), you can pay online right then and there, select to pay at the door, or let us know you'd like an invoice. Click here for the full instructions on registering for Chamber events. So, you've attended an event and you opted to be invoiced for it. You can pay that invoice online as well as ANY Chamber invoice. Click here for instructions on how to pay invoices online.

Government Affairs Committee seeks members

The Chamber is seeking Chamber members' staff who fill the role of legislative advocacy in their respective field to serve on its Government Affairs Committee. The GAC serves as a clearing house and source of education/advocacy for business and community, advising the Chamber's board of directors on issue positions. GAC members are those folks who are active in advocacy groups related to business. The GAC meets on the third Wednesday of the month at 9:00 at the Chamber office. Those interested should contact Holly at hquaine@DelawareAreaChamber.com

Follow Ohio Chamber legislative updates

As a member of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, we're grateful for their advocacy on behalf of small business. For chambers like ours with bare bones staff, the value of our membership with Ohio Chamber is the vetting, education and lobbying that we lack the adequate resources to take on. We urge you to click on their logo and follow their updates.
